Permanent Vessels Unto Honor Skaddie Deola McDouglas 2012-06-01 One must have meaningful visions, goals, and objectives in order to live a fulfilled life and become permanent vessels unto honor. In this theological study, author Skaddie McDouglas addresses deep spiritual insights that encourage others to challenge not only the truth, but also the true identity of our Creator. Through personal anecdotes and a creative style, McDouglas emphasizes that Christianity is a fundamental, mutual agreement between children and their almighty God. While offering motivational reasons why one should never forget the Lord, McDouglas also encourages spiritual seekers to carefully listen for messages from the Holy Spirit and accept that the Lord God Almighty should be the only one who judges the imperfection of humanitarian existence. McDouglas also includes support for adults who want to become positive vessels that children can look up to and become inspired by and offers ways to deal with those who are led by the Devil to become trapped within the temptations of money and pleasure. "Permanent Vessels unto Honor" offers a glimpse into one man's spiritual journey as he lifts the spirits of those who want to pursue the goal of living a purposeful life with the help of the Lord.

REFINING PROCESS IN THE HOLY GHOST SCHOOL - Holy Ghost School Book Series - LaFAMCALL God's endtime Ministries Uju Grace Okonkwo A NEW MOVE OF GOD Are we in the end time? Is life on earth drawing to a close? Have wars, rumour of wars, technology, population increase, earthquakes, pestilence, famines, drained our planet? Have we swum out of the persecution of the church? Have we seen many false prophets who rise up deceiving many? Have we witnessed the express move of gospel of the kingdom over the world? Is Jesus really coming soon? If he is coming soon, how do we prepare for Him? A lot of questions are being asked concerning the future, which you also have to ask. It seems that everywhere we look; we see signs and occurrences that seem to prove that the end has come. Then where else can we hide? No hiding place except for us to accept the soothing hand of God called "Refining Process". We are all raw, we have not been broken into pieces to enable the engine in God's factory, the grinder, to grind us. Any factory involved in manufacturing must have production rooms, where you see machinery in each section; some for grinding, some for sieving, some for melting, some for molding, some for breaking and some for assembling. As each engine has its work, section by section, to produce and perfect the product given it for massive use, each company is putting in its best to give quality product for the satisfaction of users, also the God of heaven has his own factory where he feeds us into the machine as raw material. He knows us to be raw according to our Adamic nature. He built this factory, and equipped it with the machines for those who will willingly submit themselves for refinement, knowing that they are still raw. Those who need to be grinded, sieved, melted, molded, broken, sewed or assembled to form a strong whole, to be used as a vessel of honour, prepared for every good work, as contained in 2 Timothy 2:19-21 - "Nevertheless, the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal. The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. But in a great house there are not only vessels of Gold and Silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour. If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, satisfied, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work". [Refinement, what does it mean? This means, when substances like sugar or oil is refined; it is being made pure by the removal of other substances from it. If you refine something such as a theory or idea, you improve it by making some alterations to it. People who are refined are very polite and well mannered. In the circular world, when anything is being refined, there is a process which it passes through, before becoming a refined product. For example, to refine crude oil for it to turn to petrol, it is not an hour job, even if it is, the crude oil itself would have undergone a lot of things before coming out to be a petroleum product. To refine things in this life, is not easy for non-living things, much more a living soul. In the process of refinement, it is neither easy for the refiner nor the refined, because a lot of things need to be put in or/and withdrawn in order for the beauty of the product to come out. Now let's talk about the refining process in the hand of the Lord in the life of the people. Refining process, what is it in the life of believers, the people of God? This is a process where God changes the life of his people. That is, the redeemed ones, to his own taste by removing all the vices that are not supposed to be there and adding all the spiritual fruits that are needed in their life. When a child is born to this earth, he or she has three important components: (1) Body (2) Soul (3) Spirit Refining Process in the Holy Ghost School, The three components are explained below: BODY: It comprises of the bones, muscles and blood that aids living, without it, no one can live. SOUL: In a human soul, you would find will, mind and emotion. These three things make up the soul of a man and a man cannot function without these three. 1. (1) You must give your will. 2. (2) Your mind is there to direct you on what to do and how to do about it. 3. (3) Your emotion is your feeling towards what you want to do, it can either be right or wrong. SPIRIT: The spirit of a man is made up of: 1. Conscience: This is a part of the mind that tells one what to do or what not to do. Conscience can also grow out of a particular habit or character, which a person indulges in, and believes is right, even if it might be improper or dangerous. 2. Intuition: This can also mean intellect; on the other hand it is the ability to interpret information well, think and Vessels of Honor Catherine F. Tukes 2010-05 What is a vessel of honor? And how can I become fit for the Master's use? We are all vessels or containers. What makes us either a vessel of honor or dishonor is our content or what we have deep inside of us. We can become fit for the Master's use when we allow ourselves to really get to know God. Catherine Tukes was thirsting to find the real meaning of a vessel of honor. During a three month period of fasting and consecration, she not only found out the meaning of becoming a vessel of honor; but she gained a better understanding of her role as a Christian woman. She learned that "we should not spend our time worrying or stressing but rather worshipping our God."(pg.7). with wit and wisdom she shares her journal entries and personal notes in this very interesting and up-beat book about becoming a vessel of honor. Your journey towards discovering what will make you a vessel of honor will lead you to getting closer to God. When you understand that how you live your life now...prepares you for eternity then you will embrace a life of total worship.

Become: A Vessel Unto Honor Saffie True Kamara 2019-11-15 When we think about becoming a vessel for God's use, we usually think of people who are intellectual, strong, and spiritually sound--let's face it--we think of "perfect" people. But what about the people society calls weak, the black sheep of the family, the stubborn child, or the ones with so-called messed up lives? It's easy to feel alone and discouraged and believe your life is way too messed up for God to use. But God uses all the messes and all pain. They're all part of His divine plan. You were perfectly knit together in your mother's womb, and the Father made you wonderfully complex. Every single day was laid out before you were formed. It's all part of His wonderful plan for you. The mess and pain are like boot camp, your training ground. Become will encourage and inspire you. There's not a life too messed up for Him to use for His glory.

Becoming a Man Sheldon Dickson 2019-04-05 Psalm 37v 23-24 says the steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; though he falls, he shall not be utterly cast down, for the Lord upholds him with His hands. When God created man, the potential for becoming great was in the seed. However, there is a process of time that must be observed in order for the seed to become a fruit mete for the Master's table. In these twelve chapters of Sheldon's life of which I was privileged to have shared in some of his trials and victories, I pray as you read, you too will embrace the answers he found and apply them to your life. I observed how he handled his pains and his growth in grace and Godliness, trusting and depending on the Holy Spirit's guidance to become the man of God he is today. Let me say, there is no short cuts to Christian maturity and no easy paths or simple formulas to become a vessel of honor for God's use. There is no magic in this book. However, these twelve chapters are filled with scriptures, personal experiences and practical applications of the word of God. If used properly, this book could be a practical help to new Christians, and an excellent tool to anyone looking for an answer in times of doubt and indecision. There are principles that we see in this book that we can apply to our lives to truly realize spiritual growth in fulfilling the call of discipleship that Christ has called us to. 1.Waiting is a discipline. 2. Winning is an attitude. 3. Living victorious is a choice. 4. Life is a priority, therefore it must be planned, ordered, and structured. Seeing God as an ally in our lives and not as a hindrance, will help us become a vessel of honor for God's glory and use. As you read and share in the continuous experience of walking with and trusting God, you too can discover God's unfolding plan for your life. Become the man, vessel that God has called you to be today.

Becoming a Vessel of Honor Boniface G. Gitau 2017-05-02 A vessel of honor is a person whose sole intent in life is to live for God and not for himself. This ultimate desire to please God drives him to seek an intimate relationship with God more than anything else he does for Him. He loves God for who He is and not for what God has done for him. The prayer of his heart is always for God to work in him before He can work through him; and as God gives him grace to minister to others, he uses every opportunity to glorify Christ alone. His agenda is to be an avenue through which God can dispense His love and grace to a world that is wounded and lost. A vessel of honor does not care for recognition or the praises of men; his delight is in taking the place of a servant in order to do the will of his Master.

Holy mud describes the dust we are made of mixed with the blood of Jesus Christ which is to be used by God to make us jars of clay set apart for His use.

A Broken Vessel Holiness seems to have become an elusive theme in our day. Many preachers prefer to shy away from preaching it. Why? Because they don't live it. In this way, the enemy is fighting holiness like nothing else, since he knows we have all been commanded to be holy, even as He is holy (Leviticus 19:2). The Bible says, "You must distinguish between the holy and the common, between the unclean and the clean, and you must teach the Israelites all the decrees the Lord has given them through Moses" (Leviticus 10:10-11). So holiness has to do with being uncommon and extraordinary, clean at heart, and teaching it by example. This makes holiness a subject that is related to sinlessness, righteousness, and godliness. It begins with true repentance. A person who has not known true repentance unto God and faith in the Lord Jesus, cannot be holy. Attempting holiness without true repentance would be wood, hay, and stubble, ready to be burned in the fire. He who repents truly will naturally and easily carry out restitution for past stolen, defrauded, borrowed, or unpaid things. Every holy person is uncommon in that he has experienced deliverance from all sin, through knowing, reckoning, yielding entirely to God, and walking in the Spirit. He has entered the way of sanctification. He has received a pure heart and enrolled in the School of Truth. A holy man is a man with an all-good conscience, who shuns all sin because he cherishes his relationship with God. He refrains from all sin because he would not want to court God's judgment. He has willingly offered himself to be broken and, for that reason, has become a vessel of honour. Following the simple, practical steps outlined in this anthology will carry you into the way of holiness. We send this first volume on holiness out with a cry to the Lord that, He should use it to bring many to the way of holiness that has become so elusive in our day.
